Excerpt: . . . footing, supported by the voluntary subscriptions of the French merchants settled here. As the out-goings exceed the profits, they begin to be sick of so heavy a load, and it is likely their stage will be given up, upon the expiration of the term for which the factory entered into engagements with the actors. LETTER XXIX. Gibraltar, March 9, 1776. THE end of the carnival at Cadiz differed very little from the beginning; no public balls or masquerades being allowed; the only marks of the festivity of. f. hrove-tide, were the pailfuls of water which the women in the balconies poured upon the men in slouched hats and cloaks that passed within their reach. There were, Vol. 1. A A however, however, many assemblies and balls of a lower class, where the fandango was danced a la ley, that is, in all the perfection it is capable of. Among the gipsies there is another dance, called the Manguinaoy, so lascivious and indecent, that it is prohibited under severe penalties; the tune is quite simple, little more than a constant return of the same set of notes; this, as well as the fandango, is said to have been imported from the Havannah, being both of negro breed. I have been told, that upon the coast of Africa they exhibit a variety of strange dances, pretty similar to these. Whatever may have been the birth-place of the fandango, it is now so thoroughly naturalized in Spain,...
