It was established in 1965 under Title XVIII of the Social Security Act to provide health insurance to individuals 65 and older, and has been expanded over the years to include permanently disabled individuals under 65. Medicare, which consists of four parts (A-D), covers hospitalizations, physician services, prescription drugs, skilled nursing facility care, home health visits, and hospice care, among other services. Generally, individuals are eligible for Medicare if they or their spouse worked for at least 40 quarters in Medicare-covered employment, are 65 years old, and are a citizen or permanent resident of the United States. Individuals may also qualify for coverage if they are a younger person with a permanent disability, have End-Stage Renal disease (permanent kidney failure requiring dialysis or transplant), or have amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS, Lou Gehrig s disease). The program is administered by the Centers for Medicare Medicaid Services (CMS), and by private entities that contract with CMS to provide claims processing, auditing, and quality oversight services. In FY2013, the program will cover approximately 52 million persons (43 million aged and 9 million disabled) at a total cost of about $606 billion, accounting for approximately 3.7 of GDP. Spending under the program (except for a portion of administrative costs) is considered mandatory spending and is not subject to the appropriations process. Services provided under Parts A and B (also referred to as traditional Medicare), are generally paid directly by the government on a fee-for-service basis, using different prospective payment systems or fee schedules. Under Parts C and D, private insurers are paid a monthly capitated amount..
